

My people,

Grace and truth be upon you, like a child, I bestow My favour; there will be great trials among you, to sort the sheep from the goats. It will not be easy; there will remain few for the coming of My splendour.

I the Lord have chosen, spoken; remember I am King, to do and to will. Fruit will be through seeking, holiness and sacrifice. I will not tolerate double-mindedness; I will only allow what is pure into My Kingdom.

A nursery is a place where children are nurtured through warmth, health and tender guidance, but soon the kindergarten becomes a place of strengthening, trust and enjoyment of the Father's tender mercies; so likewise you in your innermost beings have received.

But now is the time to go out into the big, wide world with inspiration from My Holy Spirit; do not be afraid to think big or beautiful, I am both, glorify Me in splendour.

Continue to walk in the light of sacrifice, love, obedience. Cherish the fact 'I will be with you'. Do not disturb yourselves with doubt or ignorance of My ability to serve you in your faithfulness; I am God, be bold, courageous, strong of heart.

Cry out to Me, adorn yourselves with beauty, mercy, just ways and a godly fairness for all to partake in service, otherwise there will be great tribulation. Allow freedom and full ministry. I have gifts you are unaware of.

Do not be fooled, I am not a God of self-seeking motivation, but of diligent sacrifice, to honour Me.

I am always with you, seek Me first in all you do, trust the Good Shepherd, whose sheep hear His voice and follow.
