

SIGNS AND WONDERS

I believe I saw precious jewels and gem stones, together with gold and silver, being used in conjunction with the latest technology, to create fine, intricate jewellery, bringing forth such incredibly high standards of craftsmanship as can only be acknowledged from an Almighty designer, because the standards achieved were so acutely honed and finely detailed.

The finished results will be affordable to the purchaser and able to be produced relatively quickly and easily, because of the available techniques and will therefore bring incredible wealth to some.

Similar advancements in technology can also be applied to the crafting of wood into beautiful, yet functional, robust furniture and furnishings for the same reason, i.e. pinpoint technological precision combined with more traditional ways of working, to produce the finest ever pieces, at what for the intricate detail, could be considered extremely reasonable prices.

Ruth Griffiths

13th February, 2011